A BIG CONTRACT.

237 New Houses To Be Constructed at Proximity.

The Cape Fear Manufacturing company yesterday closed the contract to furnish material for the construction of two hundred and thirty seven houses which will be constructed, by Mr. Cone, in the vicinity of Proximity. The lumber is to be furnished as soon as possible, the Cape Fear company to begin work on it Monday. It is estimated that 1,000,000 shingles will be required in covering the houses. This is one of the largest contracts ever made by the Cape Fear company. The price of material will reach nearly $10,000 or perhaps some in excess of that amount.

Fooling the People.

The anti-dispensary people, according to advice from the country, are getting many petitioners against the dispensary on the impression that its establishment will simply drive the barrooms out on the country people. These people should be honest enough to tell the people who are uninformed of the agreement entered into by the county commissioners. A gentleman from the country was in our office today and we gave him a number of papers containing the above mentioned agreement. He was indignant at the erroneous impressions made which are inducing so many people to sign these petitions.

But then, those same people have argued that petitions don't signify anything.

The Carnival Last Night.

The Skating Carnival at the rink last night was largely attended and was in every way a howling success. Manager McAdoo reaped a bountiful harvest from his energetic efforts to make it the grandest carnival ever given here. The large number of costumes and the graceful and fancy skating were great features. Following of a list of the prize winners:

Best lady skater, 1 pair B. B. skates, Miss Hallie Hall; best gentleman, 1 pair B. B. skates, Sam Teague; fancy skater, Jim Pearce; potato race, Harry Donnell; running race, Willie Sergeant; cake walk, J. I. Rogers "and wife."

Judges: Messrs. G. Daniel, Herman Buchanan and George French.

Another Wreck on The Southern.

Number 37, the southbound vestibule which is breaking all records for being late, was marked more than 8 hours late today. The train was run in two sections, the first of which was wrecked near Sycamore, Va., this morning. Three cars jumped the track, making it impossible for other trains to pass for several hours. Little can be learned here as to the extent of the damage, though from information obtainable it is thought that no one was hurt and that the damage is slight.

Capt. Kyle's Appointment.

An order was issued this morning appointing Capt. W. E. Kyle, lately the very efficient General Freight and Passenger agent of the C. F. & Y. V., general agent of the Atlantic & Yadkin railroad with headquarters at Fayetteville. This is good news to our people who highly esteem Capt. Kyle. It is the general verdict that there is no better railroad man anywhere than he. We sincerely trust the other officers and clerks may be similarly provided for.—Fayetteville Observer.

The Latest Laughing Craze.

Lovers of high class comedy will certainly have an opportunity of enjoying themselves next week at the academy of music.

The Murray-Hart Co. perceiving what is most likely to please the theatre-going public of today, have endeavored to place before their patrons what will most likely please, and their repertoire includes nothing but good, wholesome laugh-producers such as "My Uncle from Japan," "The Woman Hater," "The Slow Mr. Swift," "The Irish Doctor," etc.

Good, clean, high-class specialties are introduced by the ladies and gentlemen of the company, and everything is done to make you feel that you have had a pleasant evening and got your money's worth.

Knowing that nothing is a success without the ladies, they have issued a ticket which will admit one lady free with every reserved seat purchased for Monday nights entertainment. Come out and enjoy yourself.

Relief Train Returned.

The relief train, which left here Monday to help in the work of removing snow from the Southern's track between Monroe and Washington, returned this morning. The train, was pulled on the return trip by engine number 250 which was in the triple freight wreck at Lawyers, Va., Thursday afternoon and when she came in this morning was minus a cow catcher. Her pilot team was also broken off, but otherwise the engine was not badly damaged.

WAS A HISTORY-MAKING DAY.

The Suffrage Amendment Passed the House.

OVER THREE-FIFTHS MAJORITY.

With Galleries and Lobbies Crowded With Interested Spectators it Passed Both Readings.

It was a history-making day—yesterday in the house.

A radical change was made in the organic law of the state, so far as the house can make such a change.

The suffrage amendment to the constitution was passed by more than the required three-fourths vote.

Many have been the years since those gray historic walls have witnessed such a scene as they saw yesterday.

Lobbies and galleries were crowded and there was a nervous quiet upon the floor. One need not have been told that the most important business of the entire session was about to be transacted.

It was just 11:55 when Mr. Rountree, of New Hanover, called attention to the fact that the time for the special order—the Suffrage Amendment Bill—had arrived.

The bill, with the report of the committee thereon, was read by Mr. Winston, of Bertie.

Though the bill had been thoroughly considered in caucus, the debate on it yesterday lasted for nearly three hours. Speeches were made by Messrs. Rountree and Winston for the bill; and by Hampton, Smith, (col.), Eaton, (col.), Wright, (col.), and Williams, of Graham, all republicans, against it.

Mr. Rountree's speech was an eloquent presentation of the conditions that lead to the drafting of the amendment and now compelled its adoption. He explained the provisions of the bill in detail, the reason for each and discussed in an able and convincing manner the legal questions involved.

Although Mr. Rountree's speech was one of the most able and powerful that has been delivered in the house this session.

As for Mr. Winston's speech more eloquence could hardly be crowded into the five minutes allowed him. He realized the importance of the occasion and rose fully equal to it. Almost everyone of his terse, apigrammatic sentences were applauded.

In the speeches of the three colored members—Smith, Eaton and Wright—there was a touch of pathos. For the short comings of their race, which they acknowledged, there could be but sorrow; for their services as slaves and as freemen appreciation and for the hopes and aspirations, sympathy. But above it all stood the argument of his having been tried for 30 years and found wanting.

As the debate proceeded the feeling began to grow more tense and the situation became dramatic, until one could, during the roll-call, easily imagine himself in a political convention where a contest hot and close was being waged.

There were a number of prominent democrats who had manifested a doubt as to how they would vote. There was, therefore, some fear as to the result, though the required 73 had pledged to stand by the amendment. When one of these doubtful members voted for the amendment, he was wildly applauded by the democrats. If he voted against it he won applause from the republican side. But when the three populist members—Crumpler, Tarkenton and Johnson, of Sampson—voted for the amendment, the applause was long and deafening, shouts and yells being added to the handclapping.

The vote on the second reading was 79 to 29 and on the third reading it was 81 to 27 Messrs. Patterson of Caldwell, and Reeves, of Ashe, who did not vote on the second reading voted on the third, increasing the vote to 81. Messrs. Fleming and—who voted against the bill on the second reading refrained from voting on the third cutting the negative vote down to 27.

The bill was sent over to the senate without engrossment and will probably come up for passage by that body today.—News and Observer.

Firemen!

An adjourned meeting of the fire department will be held in the hall of Steamer Co. No. 1, Tuesday 21st inst. at 7:30 p. m. At that time we hope to see every member of the department present. Show your interest by attending, and if not then don't criticize what will be done. We must get to work. By order of the chief.

E. L. Clark, Sec.

Rockland shoes for men are too well known in Greensboro to need any special recommendation. Thacker & Brookmann have about two dozen pairs of the excellent shoes in the four dollar grade to close out at three dollars a pair; they are in both laced and congress gaiters. Better secure a pair before your size is sold out.

FATAL COLLISION.

Thirty Killed Outright and Fifty Injured.

By Cable to the Telegram.
Brussels, Feb. 18.—The Calais express, carrying London passengers, collided with a train which was standing still in a forest near Brussels. Thirty passengers were killed outright and fifty injured.

Another account gives twenty killed and a hundred injured, mostly Belgians. It is not believed that there were any English or Americans aboard. There was a heavy fog, and the moving train was going at a high rate. Among the killed were a newly wedded couple on their honeymoon. The locomotive mounted the top of the last carriages which were filled with passengers. Three cars were smashed in pieces.

THE FAST MAIL SUBSIDY.

Senator Pritchard Did "Quiet and Effective Work" For It.

A special to the Charlotte Observer from Washington says: "The Southern fast provision was inserted in the bill in the senate. It appropriates $171,000. This was stricken out in the house and will have to run the gauntlet of the house again. The probabilities are that it will pass the house this time. Senator Pritchard did some quiet and effective work for the fast mail among senators, and was active on the floor in keeping senators present, that their absence might not defeat it. Pritchard was paired in favor of the fast mail and Butler against it."

LITTLE ZEB BOOMED.

The People of Scotland County Rejoice at Victory.

Laurinburg, N. C., Feb. 17.—Yell after yell mingled with the warning of little Zeb, with the air of our quiet little village this morning when the news was received that Scotland county bill had passed its final reading. Every heart was made to rejoice over our great victory won by hard fighting, and we shall ever feel grateful to the honorable body which gave us our Scotland, and we will ever strive to be loyal to democracy and white supremacy.

Will be Here on March 9th.

"The Garter King of English Bandmasters," "The Napoleon of Bandmen," are abstract titles that the English papers have added to the genuine titles worn by Lieut. Daniel Godfrey, who is the most distinguished military conductor that the annals of the English army have ever known.

Appointed bandmaster of the Grenadier Guards at a very early age by H. R. H., the Prince Consort, on the recommendation of Sir Michael Costa, in less than ten years' time he had made his band the leader of all the army bands and worthy of the First Regiment of Infantry in Her Majesty's line. Godfrey gained his first widespread fame on the occasion of the grand ball given by the officers of the guards in honor of the newly wedded Prince and Princess of Wales. For this event he composed the "Guards" waltz, which proved a popular success and is still played at every ball in England. The "Mabel" waltz with the refrain that supplied the popular melody, "Mother May I Go Out to Swim," added to his popular laurels.

Why Garland Quit Drinking.

Mr. Garland's death has recalled to many minds incidents of his long career in Washington, some of them humorous and some pathetic, says the Detroit Free Press. The story of the trick played on him in the senate by a group of his colleagues, who offered him cubes of brown Windsor soap under the pretense that they were caramels, and were dismayed to see him eat them with apparent relish, has been told too many times to bear repeating. But there is a less hackneyed reminiscence of his return to Washington after the campaign of 1880, a convert, at least temporarily, to teetotalism. He had always been up to that time a free liver, and had touched glasses with his brother senators with no restraint beyond his own distaste for excesses.

When he suddenly declined the proffered hospitality of their sideboards they were astonished and asked him a thousand questions to draw out the reason. He consented at last to explain. "Gentlemen," said he, "I have simply stopped. We had a pretty hot canvass in Arkansas this summer and I stumbled most of the state. I saw everywhere the graves of good fellows who used to share my convivialities, while others, reduced to sorry wrecks, were still moving about the streets, dividing the total of the whiskey consumed in Arkansas by the number of habitual consumers, so as to get an average, I found that I had already drunk about a barrel and a half of whiskey more than I was entitled to. This set me to thinking. 'If I drink any more,' said I to myself, 'I shall be drinking some other fellow's whiskey.' Of course, I didn't want to do that, so I just stopped."

WILSON ALTERED RECORDS

And Plead Guilty Before Court Martial.

SEVERE SENTENCE IS EXPECTED.

Cuban Policeman Kills a Negro Soldier Who Resisted Arrest—Today's News From Manila.

By Cable to the Telegram.
Santiago, Feb. 18.—Maj. Wilson, of the Third volunteer regiment of immunes, pleaded guilty before the court martial today of altering records, and it is expected that a severe sentence will be imposed. Monday the court martial will try the soldiers of the Ninth regiment of immunes, colored, who are charged with inciting a fatal affray on the night of November 14th, though it is not believed there is evidence enough to convict.

The entire regiment is trying to screen the offenders.

A Cuban policeman yesterday killed a negro soldier of the Eighth Illinois regiment. The negro was drunk and resisted arrest, and in the fight struck the policeman with a chair. The investigation justified the policeman.

Public business is greatly hindered by a lack of funds in Havana. The employees of the custom house and postoffice have not yet been paid, neither have jury salaries.

REBELS CONCENTRATING.

Manila, Feb. 18.—The rebels have been concentrating their forces all day on the south front of Pasig river, to the right of our lines. Our scouts report that the rebels are thick in the country near, particularly in the thick jungle, which extends for miles. They are apparently coming from La Guna and Calite provinces. The Americans are strongly entrenched from the beach to the Pasig river.

The troops are affected by the heat, which is oppressive and it will probably be warmer during the rainy season.

LOUBET ELECTED.

First Ballot Gave Him a Majority of 213 Over Mallin.

By Cable to the Telegram.
Paris, Feb. 18.—The national assembly met this afternoon, and Loubet, president of the senate, declared the session open. On the first ballot for president the vote was: Loubet, 483; Mallin, 270.

It was announced this morning that Dupuy definitely declined to enter the contest. There was a manifestation last night against Loubet and in favor of Mallin before the republican club.

The league of patriots announced this morning that it intended to do all in its power to prevent the election of Loubet. The radical press favored Loubet's election, and the socialists also supported him. The conservative and moderate journals endorse the candidacy of Mallin.

When Deroulede voted he attempted to speak. Loubet forbade him. The rightists protested, the leftists applauded. Deroulede persisted in speaking, and was expelled from the tribune. Apart from this incident the proceedings were dull.

Trial Postponed.

By Wire to the Telegram.
Asheville, N. C., Feb. 18.—The trial of the officers and directors of the First National and three other banks which failed here last year, has been postponed until March 7th, Pritchard, one of the counsel in the case, being needed in Washington. The friends of the Nicaragua canal project are determined not to let the matter die. The bill was defeated but the item has been tacked on to the river and harbor appropriation bill. This, we take it, gives the canal bill another chance.

Yesterday was a history-making day in the house of representatives. The suffrage amendment to the constitution was passed by more than the required three-fourths vote. The bill is not intended to disfranchise the negro as a class—only those negroes who are unfitted, by reason of ignorance and crime for exercising the duties of citizenship and exercising them wisely.

We return thanks to Mr. H. E. C. Bryant of the Charlotte Observer for a copy of a most excellent work by D. A. Tompkins on road building and broad tires; also containing a brief history of Mecklenburg's good roads together with some arguments in favor of broad tires for all vehicles. Any county and state is indeed fortunate that has in it a paper like the Charlotte Observer and men connected with it like Caldwell, Tompkins and Bryant.

We note with pleasure the enlargement of the Greensboro Presbyterian. Dr. Smith now has associated with him Mr. John C. Wharton in the editorial relationship and the paper will hereafter represent both Westminster and the First Presbyterian church. In speaking of this change the last issue says: "This is the natural, the ideal, arrangement. With gratitude to God we see our little paper, born of faith and prayer nearly three years ago, entering upon its wider mission of usefulness. May the divine blessing still rest upon it, multiplying its power for good, and making it an effective, tho' humble, agency in the advancement of the kingdom of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ."

Not one child dies where ten formerly died from croup. People have learned the value of One Minute Cough Cure and use it for severe lung and throat troubles. It immediately stops coughing. It never fails. Howard Gardner.

Former Confederates now living in Boston are organizing a veterans' association for social purposes.

Frost bites, burns, indolent sores, eczema, skin disease, and especially Piles, DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve stands first and best. Look out for dishonest people who try to imitate and counterfeit it. It's their endorsement of a good article. Worthless goods are not imitated. Get DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Howard Gardner.

For La Grippe

Thomas Whitfield & Co., 250 Wabash ave., corner Jackson st., one of Chicago's oldest and most prominent druggists, recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for la grippe, as it not only gives a prompt and complete relief, but also counteracts any tendency of la grippe to result in pneumonia. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Cuban generals who created a scene at the Garcia funeral in Havana are being blamed for their conduct.

As the season of the year when pneumonia, la grippe, sore throat, coughs, colds, catarrh, bronchitis and lung troubles are to be guarded against, nothing "is a fine substitute," will "answer the purpose," or "is just as good" as One Minute Cough Cure. That is the one infallible remedy for all lung, throat or bronchial troubles. Inset vigorously on having it if "something else" is offered you. Howard Gardner.

Baron Karl de Merck and Francis C. Baring, prominent society men, were granted divorces in London.

Carved His Epitaph and Died.
This is an inscription on a book tree standing on the knobe in Monroe's ship, back of Jeffersonville. A date also followed the words, but it is now indistinct. There is a strange story connected with the inscription. An old resident relates it.

"Years ago, when that section of Indiana was little explored and when the heavy bush was the dwelling place of the wild turkey, deer and rattlesnake, John Harmon started to Charlottesville to attend court. He was armed with an old fashioned rifle. A rattler bit Harmon's leg. Harmon killed the reptile. Then he began to prepare for death. It was he who carved the words in lighter lines on the tree, with the request beneath, long since obliterated by the tree's growth, to bury him on the spot. A few days later Harmon's body was found. A grave was dug by the tree and there it can be seen today."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Excessive Precaution.
A southwest Georgia couple going to be married, the prospective husband said:
"Molly, the last time I was married I lost the ring 'fore I got to the parson's. But I'm shore of it this time."
"What is it, John?" she asked.
"I've got it in my mouth," he said.
"Im shore of it now."
But when they stood before the preacher the latter asked:
"Where is the ring?"
The groom gulped—choked—strutted—and finally exclaimed in despair:
"Fore de Lord, I done swallowed it!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Remarkable Rescue
Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine would cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework, and is as well as ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. E. ## MICA MINES OF INDIA.

The Methods of Hundreds of Years Ago Still in Use.

The mica mines of India are in the interior of the country and very inaccessible. The Abruker mine, it is stated, produces the finest mica that has ever been mined, both for lamination and color. It has been sunk about 300 feet, following the pitch of the vein, and all this mica and refuse have been raised and carried away by the natives. No machinery of any kind except drill and hammers is used in their mining operations.

The refuse and the mica are placed in baskets each holding ten pounds, the baskets being passed up from hand to hand by women, who stand in a line on ladders. The contents of the baskets are deposited at the top, and the baskets are returned down the ladder in the same manner as they went up, but by another line of women. Water is taken out of the mines by means of jugs. It is supposed that this method of operation has been carried out for many hundreds of years, except that there is more care to protect the miners.

After the crude mica is taken from the mines it is first roughly trimmed and then sorted into different grades, according to size and quality. It is then taken to the mica workers, who split it up and scrub out the size for it to be sent into the shears, the cut pieces then being cleaned, weighed and packed ready for shipment. The mica is then transported in general warehouses in baskets on the backs of bullocks and in bullock carts. In this way it is carried hundreds of miles to shipping points at a speed of about ten miles a day.

The mica can be split down to .0003 of an inch in thickness. Being both drop-proof and transparent, it is very useful for many purposes in the arts, besides being an excellent insulator.—Electrical World.

COLOR BLIND PAINTERS.

A London Oculist Asserts That There Are Such Artists.

To speak of a color blind artist sounds like joking, said a noted oculist; but, strange as it seems, there are several persons so affected who can nevertheless paint extremely well. Numbers of color blind people there are, of course, who draw perfectly in pencil, ink and crayons, but I myself know a scene painter attached to a provincial theater who, though "color blind," paints all his scenery, and has quite a local name, not only for his "interiors" and oak chambers, but even for landscapes.

I can tell you also of two London ladies who consulted me for color blindness who paint really beautiful pictures. One is the daughter of a late famous artist and was taught painting by her father. She is quite unable to distinguish red from green, but her colors are all labeled with the names, and she has been taught which to use for certain effects. Possibly her painting may seem to her eye, as it were, drawing with a brush and "shading" with the colors.

The other is a lady artist of some celebrity, who has for years exhibited annually in London. The public is not aware that she is color blind. She painted the "Yellow Group" for a certain noble bridegroom a year or two ago and also several public men's portraits and one of an eminent physician fetched 500 guineas.

There is a gentleman residing at Kensington who, having years ago left the navy through finding his advancement hopelessly barred by his color blindness, is at present making several hundreds a year by his brush as an artist, designing most artistic and brightly colored picture posters for advertisement boardings.—London Answers.

Meant Round Trips, Perhaps.
The Boston head of a Scotch professor who has been advocating the advantages of athletic exercise. "The Roman youths," he cried, "used to swim three times across the Tiber before breakfast."

The Scotch professor, noticing one of his auditors gazing, murmured: "McAlister, why do you smile? He will be glad to share your amusement."

The canny Scot replied, "I was just thinking, sir, that the Roman youths must have left their clothes on the wrong bank at the end of their swim."

Too Good a Balancer.
"Why don't you marry him?" they asked of the beautiful girl.

"I do not love him," she replied.

"But, tut," they said, "Don't be old fashioned. He is worth a million and is already on the brink of the grave."

"On the brink, yes," she answered bitterly, "but I am told that he has had experience as an equilibrist. Who knows how long he may be able to stay there?"—Pittsburgh Chronicle.

Dangers of the Grip.

The greatest danger from La Grippe is of its resulting in pneumonia. If reasonable care is used, however, and Chamberlain's Cough Remedy taken, all danger will be avoided. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for la grippe we have yet to learn of a single case having resulted in pneumonia which shows conclusively that this remedy is a certain preventive of that dangerous disease. It will cure la grippe in less time than any other treatment. It is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadelphia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows: "I was in a most dreadful condition of mind. My skin was most yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters; and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

Florida and the South.

Opening of the Social Season and Inauguration of the Magnificent

New York & Florida Limited Service
JANUARY 16, 1899.

The opening of the Florida season will be signified this year as usual by the placing in service of the "New York and Florida Limited" between New York and St. Augustine, Fla. This is acknowledged to be the finest train in the world, in its appointments, luxury and detail of finish, and the first of these trains was constructed by the Pullman company for the use of the President of the United States on official tours.

"The New York and Florida Limited" leaves New York daily except Sunday at 11:50 a. m., via the Pennsylvania Railroad, the Southern Railway, Florida Central & Peninsular R. R. and the Florida East Coast Railway, and reaches St. Augustine at 2:20 p. m. the following day, making the run, which exceeds 1,000 miles, in little more than twenty-four hours. No train has attracted so much attention, and its fame has been heralded wherever railroading is known. It is composed of Pullman compartment cars, each room being finished in different woods and supplied with private lavatory and toilet; Pullman drawing-room sleeping cars of the latest pattern and finish; a royal club car for the gentleman; an observation car with a handsome drawing room at its rear opening out to a wide platform; a library car, and dining car, in which the service and the cuisine rank with the finest New York hotels. This "New York and Florida Limited" leaves through solid to St. Augustine with the exception of one car which is detached at Columbia, S. C., and goes through to Aiken, which it reaches at 9:35 the next morning after leaving New York, and Augusta at 9:50. Brunswick and Jacksonville are conveniently reached by this train at 12 o'clock noon through the perfect connections afforded at Everett, Ga.

There are two other fine trains between New York and Florida via "The Florida Short Line," one the "Washington and Southwestern Vestibule Limited," leaving New York at 4:20 p. m. daily, and the "United States Fast Mail," leaving New York at 12:05 midnight. The former train carries through Pullman drawing room sleeping cars between New York, Jacksonville and Tampa, and also offers Pullman sleeping car service between New York and Augusta, Ga., with connections for Aiken, Brunswick and Jacksonville. The latter carries through drawing room sleeping cars between New York and Jacksonville, connecting with parlor car service to points on F. C. & P. R. R. and F. E. C. Ry. Dining cars are operated on all trains of the Southern Ry. "The Florida Short Line" in connection with the Florida East Coast Railway to Miami offers the most direct, quickest and delightful service to Nassau, Havana and Key West. For full information, reservations, etc., apply to J. L. Adams, G. E. A., F. C. & P. R. R., 353 Broadway, New York, or to A. S. Wheat, E. P. A., Southern Ry., 271 Broadway, New York.

UNDER THE DEEP SEA

HOW THE HEAVILY LADEN DIVER GOES ABOUT HIS WORK.

His Dress Weighs Nearly Two Hundred Pounds and is a Very Complicated Affair—The Signalman Holds the Diver's Life in His Hands.

The dress of a fully equipped diver weighs, in round numbers, 170 pounds. Taking off his everyday garb, the diver pulls on his thick underclothing—a white knitted sweater and trousers and a pair of ribbed stockings, also white. Should he intend to work in unusually deep water, he puts on two, sometimes three, sets of underclothing, to relieve the pressure of the water.

The woolen clothing donned, the next garment is the diving dress, measuring for a man of average height 5 feet 5 inches from the collar to the sole of the foot. This dress is made of solid sheet india rubber, covered on both sides with tanned twill. It has a double collar, the inner one to pull up round the neck, and the outer one, of red india rubber, to go over the breastplate and form a water tight joint. The cuffs also are of red india rubber and fit tightly round the wrists, making, when secured by the vulcanized india rubber rings, water tight joints, at the same time leaving the diver's hands free. In the outer collar 12 holes are bored for securing the breastplate. This is made of tinned copper. The outer edge is of brass and has 12 screws firmly fitted to it at intervals and projecting upward. These projections pass through the corresponding holes in the outer collar of the dress.

The band of the breastplate is in four sections, and the holes in these sections pass over the projecting screws and are secured in place by wing nuts or thumb screws. A little careful consideration will make it clear that the dress is held in position by its rubber collar, with the aid of the breastplate flange and wing nuts.

The upper edge of the breastplate is fitted with a neck ring and a segmental screw. The use of this we shall presently explain.

The boots are of stout leather, with leaden soles, and are secured over the instep by buckles and straps. The pair weighs 92 pounds—four pounds over the quarter of a hundredweight. The lead soles are firmly attached by copper rivets. The tongues of the boots are very wide. Bored through for rough work are fitted with metal toe caps. Thus far—underclothing, dress, breastplate and boots—our diver is arrayed. He has now to be weighted. Lead weights of 40 pounds each, shield or heart shaped, are suspended back and front by means of gun metal clips and studs or tabs and lashings. He has now only to put on his helmet and to affix the air pipe.

The helmet, like the breastplate, is of tinned copper and is fitted with a segment beyond the neck, corresponding to that mentioned as belonging to the breastplate. The eighth of a turn, and the helmet is firmly secured, being both air and water tight. It has three strong plate glasses in brass frames, protected by guards, two oval at the sides and one round at the front. The front can be unscrewed to enable the diver to give orders without removing any other portion of the dress. An outlet valve is provided at the side or back of the helmet, which the diver can close should he wish to rise to the surface. This valve allows the breathed air to escape, yet prevents the entrance of water.

At the side of the front glass is a mechanical arrangement for getting rid of the excess of air, and it also allows when the back outlet valve is closed in regulating the expansion of the dress in rising to the surface. There is also an inlet valve, and this is constructed so as to allow the air to enter, but not to escape, in case of a break in the air pipe. The air pipe, which is made of iron from 45 to 60 feet, fitted together by means of gun metal joints. Securely connected with the helmet by means of the inlet valve and an elbow tube, the other end of the air pipe is fitted on to the nozzle of the air delivering diving pump.

His leather belt is buckled on, his knife, well sharpened and of strong steel, covered with a metal case to keep it dry and intact, is slung upon it, and after taking a drink, or a little light refreshment, the work is given. "All right," the face glass screwed on, and receiving a tap on the helmet as a signal to descend down he goes by rope or ladder, either of which must be weighted at the bottom.

Each diver while under water requires a signalman to hold his life line (that is, the line fastened round his waist by which he is hauled up) and the air pipe, both of which should be kept just taut, so that any movements of the diver may be felt. The signalman is of the utmost importance to the diver. Indeed, to use the words of a diver with whom we recently talked, he is his life. He must exercise the utmost vigilance all the time that the diver is down. Should the attendant give one pull on the life line it signifies, "How are you getting on?" If all is well, the diver gives an answering pull to reassure those above. Two pulls on the air pipe given by the diver mean "more air" (pump faster), and so on throughout the code of signals.

In addition to the signal code modern invention has adapted and utilized the telephone, and a speaking apparatus for men working at a depth of 60 feet or more is frequently used. The electric light also is now employed by divers working at a depth beyond 20 feet.—James Cassidy in St. Nicholas.

The Berbers of Morocco are an interesting blond race dispersed along the Atlas range. In the central Atlas they still call themselves "Berber" (plural Bereber), but the meaning of the word is uncertain. Perhaps it is the source of our word "barbarian."

GUILFORD COUNTY.

By virtue of the powers conferred upon me in a certain order made by the Superior Court of Guilford County in a cause therein pending, entitled Mrs. Nellie Albright, et al., et passim, I will, as commissioner, sell at the court house door in Greensboro on the first Monday in March (the 13th day) to the highest bidder at public auction, for cash, the following described land, to wit: A certain lot of land, more or less, situated on Cedar street, in the city of Greensboro and fronting on said street, and containing about 20 feet frontage, and containing the lands of "T. M. Pickard" on the north, "Bob Allen" on the south, "Richardson" on the east, and "others" on the west, containing one-half of one acre, more or less. Upon the said lot is situated a nice five room cottage, good well and a barn. It being the home place of Joe Albright, deceased.

This 25th day of January, 1899.
A. L. BROOKS, Commissioner.

A CLEVER RUSSIAN.

He Found a Method of Beating His Persian Creditor.

In Persia, when a creditor fails to get his money in any other way, he appears in the debtor's house and sits down. Then he does not move away till the delinquent pays up. He enters the debtor's sleeping apartments, if possible, and has his meals brought in. A few years ago a Persian held an unsatisfied claim against the British government, and he presented himself before the British minister one day and camped out in his private office. The minister did not see the joke, and sent for a policeman. That made a lot of noise and trouble, and the Russian representative in Teheran eventually learned a lesson from it, for he managed a case of the same kind much differently.

The Persian who demanded money from the Russian (Count Kolomeisov) was a holy man, a dervish, and when he sat down in the Russian's ante-room to wait till the latter paid his disputed claim Count Kolomeisov knew that he could not get rid of him without much fuss and explanation. It is against the laws, or at least the custom, which is just as firm to touch a creditor who takes this means of collecting money, so the count could not throw him out. He thought over the matter, and one morning he sent for a lot of masons. Then he ordered them to build a wall in the middle of the room. The dervish watched them placidly at first, but when the wall grew and it became apparent that it would be completed soon he jumped over it, ran away and has not been seen since. They say that the count is the first man in Teheran who has beaten a creditor of this kind without recourse to the police.—New York Press.

DEEP SEA WATER.

At One Thousand Fathoms Its Pressure is a Ton to the Square Inch.

When marine life began to command notice, the question of the depth to which it could extend divided scientific thought into warring camps. About 1840, it was generally believed that the bathymetric limit was about 800 fathoms, and some strange ideas were current as to the physical condition of water when under a pressure such as a depth of two miles would produce. It was thought that skeletons of drowned men, or even heavy cannon and the "wedges of gold" that popular imagination places in the sea, floated at certain levels, beneath which is water so compressed as to be impervious to fact, water is almost incompressible, and the weight of a cubic inch of it at the depth of a mile is very little more than at the surface, but it was assumed that no living being could survive a pressure which at 1,000 fathoms is about a ton to the square inch.

We ourselves live under a pressure of about 15 pounds per inch, and are unaware of it. Indeed we sometimes wake on a morning when the barometer has risen, say, half an inch during the night, and consequently find ourselves sustaining an increased pressure of several tons not only without suffering, but with a positive feeling of buoyancy and good spirits. On the other hand, if the tremendous pressure under which we live be relieved, as by a surgical "cup," severe injury will follow. Aeronauts suffer from this cause, and marine animals dredged from great depths often reach the surface in a most lamentable condition, with eyes protruding and viscera distended.—Dr. C. M. Blackford, Jr., in North American Review.

Not Reassuring.
That an answer may be cheerful and yet far from reassuring is once more proved out of the mouth of a young Irishman.

He was acting as guide to a party of Americans who, in the course of a day's excursion during their visit to Ireland, were wandering over a picturesque, deserted castle.

"It seems very unsafe," said one of the party, as they groped and stumbled along a dark passage. "These floors are loose, I know."

"Yes," said another timid person, "and I wish I could see the blue sky above me. This seems like a dungeon, not a ruin!"

"Is it the blue sky ye'd be seeing, miss?" said the voice of the guide, some feet in advance. "Why may the missus preserve ye for an innocent! It's the roof, an' nowt else, that kapes the walls together, miss!"—Youth's Companion.

He Could Get Them.
When he was a Harvard student, the late Sherman Hoar became famous as a maker of epigrams. One evening he had been indulging in his usual style of conversation in the rooms of Professor D., a man after his own heart, but too apt to interfere in his lecture with apparently original wit-ticisms taken, after the manner of Moliere, wherever he found them. When Hoar and a fellow student had left the academic presence, the latter enthusiastically cried: "By Jove, Sherman, how do you manage it? I wish I could remember all the bright things you said just now."

"Go to D.'s lecture tomorrow and take notes," said Hoar. "You'll get them then."—Sixchange.

Poisonous Parts of Snakes.
All poisonous serpents have movable fangs, which are found in the upper jaw, and when not in use close up like the blade of a penknife.

At the base of every poison fang there are numerous glands containing the fang, if broken or lost, is replaced in a few weeks by the growth of another.

Three things too much and three too little are pernicious to man—to speak much and know little, to spend much and have little, to presume much and be worth little.—Cervantes.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned and his associates will apply to the present session of the General Assembly of North Carolina for a charter, among other things, to construct and operate a street railway, power and electric light plants and gas plants and operate them in such cities and towns in North Carolina as may see fit to contract with them for the same, and to furnish electric power to all persons desiring the same for manufacturing or other purpose.

An Honest Medicine for La Grippe.

George W. Waits, of South Gardner, Mo., says: "I have had the worst cough, cold, chills and grip, and have taken lots of trash of no account but profit to the vender. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the only thing that has done any good whatever. I have used one 50-cent bottle and the chills, cold and grip have all left me. ## Made the Best Record.

H. A. Williams, master of trains, on the North Carolina division of the Southern Railway, headquarters at Greensboro, has made the best record of any master of trains, on any division of any road, during the great snow and its blockading tendencies. He just kept hammering away with his trains and he succeeded in keeping his line open, with a small percentage of delays, and without damage to trains or engines. His schedule in getting through the great banks of snow along his lines were some twelve hours ahead of the other lines, and not only his road, but others are congratulating him on his indomitable energy and perseverance. Henry Williams is a hustler, when you want trains to move, he moves them.—Durham Sun.

WINE OF CARDUI

How a Woman Suffers.

HOWELL, IND., Nov. 26.
I will always praise Wine of Cardui. It has done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken in my life. Please send a book about female diseases to the ladies whose names I enclose.
Mrs. MINNIE STODGHILL.

Wine of Cardui

It isn't necessary for a woman to give particulars. When she says she has "female troubles," other women know what that means. It means days and nights of endless suffering. It means headaches which no tongue can describe. It means terrible bearing and dragging down in the lower abdomen. It means agonizing backache, and shoulder ache, and arm ache, and aches in the lower limbs. It means nervous on edge—the blues—depression and loss of hope. It means debilitating drains that the doctors call leucorrhoea. It means martyrdom—sometimes even death seems preferable. And still Wine of Cardui will utterly put those diseases and pains to rout. It has cured thousands of cases when nothing else on earth would. To the budding woman, to the bride, to the wife, to the expectant mother, to those going through the Change of Life, this Vegetable Wine is a blessing.

So sang a young fellow as he passed down the street a few days ago when the snow was about 12 inches deep and the mercury at zero.

In a door way, hiding himself as much as possible from the freezing northeast wind, stood a tramp. On hearing the merry voice of the jolly young fellow as he plowed his way through the snow, and being struck with the words of the song, ventured his head out further enough to be seen, hailing the young man. The tramp, with tears in his voice, said: "My friend, the birds may be here, but you today off on spring."

Notes of The Prowler

"When it comes to pure devilry," said the Prowler as he laid his muddy feet on the office table this morning, "the fellow who threw a snow ball through a neighbor's window the other night takes the cake."

What was that for? we asked. "Well, you remember there was recently a dispensary agitation in Greensboro. It has been moved to Raleigh, now, but while it was here, there was at least one anti who lost his temper. It is said he was passing the residence of a dispensary advocate one night while there was plenty of snow suitable for making good, hard balls. His ire was up against his neighbor and he let fly a snow ball which crashed through a large pane of glass in the room where the afore-said neighbor was sitting. The gentleman's daughter was sitting at the piano playing, and a large piece of broken glass barely missed her face.

"The gentleman who had his window thus rudely opened hurried out and caught the man who threw the missile. The latter, it is said, begged like a good fellow and acknowledged that his temper got away with him. Being caught in such low-down and mean business was sufficient punishment, the gentleman thought.

"No, I won't give you the names; you newspaper fellows want to know too much. You tell enough anyhow; but I know what I know, and I want to say that such a spiteful, vindictive spirit as the man who threw the ball manifested should be cooled off and the man in whom it lives should be rolled in the snow until he is cool. Can you think? Well, think a minute. It was dark outside. There was light inside. The man was in his comfortable home sitting by the fire and the ball came from out in the darkness, crashed through the window and the man who threw it couldn't tell how much damage it would do.

"That's mighty sorry business and that man's intentions may ordinarily be very good; but on that night he was harboring and nursing the same, identical spirit which leads to the deadly work of the midnight assassin, and sticks the torch to a neighbor's house."

And the Prowler said he was glad the snow-balling season would soon be over.
